

Flagship Diploma Course in Jungian Coaching & Consulting

Program Brochure | 2024/2025

Flagship: a 'command' ship leading other ships on a mission. Psychologically, it is the inner guidance on the archetypal 'sea journey', the passage through life, crossing seas of affects, emotional turmoils, instinctual drives, inexplicable states and moods storms, challenges of orientation, being lost and being free. It is the journey home, guided by the Pole Star and the inner compass of the Soul.

It is a discovery of leadership by service.

It is curious that we tend to base our decisions, reality checks, and actions in important aspects of life upon our conscious reasoning while actually we are mostly unconscious.

According to cognitive neuroscientists, we are conscious of only about 5 percent of our cognitive activity, so most of our decisions, actions, emotions, and behaviour depend on the 95 percent of brain activity that goes beyond our conscious awareness. (Szegedy - Maszak 2005)

What is Unconscious?

"Water is the "valley spirit," the water dragon of Tao, whose nature resembles water- a yang in the yin, therefore, water means spirit that has become unconscious."

— C.G. Jung, The Archetypes and the Collective Unconscious
